str. 3, rozdział 7

The first part, "Exemplary sets", presents several dozen support frame variants from our offer. This description contains the name of the element, its symbol and the number of pieces per a given set. The number in the rectangle indicates the number of the page in a particular thematic section, which contains more information about the underlined element, such as available dimension types. In order to make navigation in individual sections easier, each of them is marked with a different colour, in a bottom corner of every page.

Elements whose symbols are marked with a grey background, are products made to special order according to individual directions.
